Coding, Billing, and Reimbursement

- 6) Will schools receive the same reimbursement for services delivered via telemedicine as they do for in-person delivery?

Yes, the Agency is reimbursing the fee schedule rates for services delivered via telemedicine.

- 7) Will schools have additional time to submit claims for services delivered during the emergency period?

The Agency has not extended the timeframe for schools to submit claims. Schools continue to have 12 months to submit claims to the Agency.

- 8) When billing for claims, do schools need to add the GT modifier to every procedure code for services delivered via telemedicine?

Yes, providers will need to add the GT modifier to claims in order to be reimbursed for services delivered via telemedicine.

- 9) Which procedure codes should schools use when billing for calendar year 2020 school-based behavioral health services?

Providers must use the behavioral health codes and any accompanying modifier(s) that are listed on the 2019 Medicaid Certified School Match Programs Fee Schedule.

- 10) If a school district has submitted claims for behavioral health services delivered in 2020 using codes on the 2020 draft fee schedule, will it need to resubmit the claims to the Agency?

Yes, these claims will need to be resubmitted using procedure codes listed on the 2019 fee schedule.

- 11) When billing for audio-only behavioral health services, do schools need to add the CR modifier to every procedure code?

Yes, providers must append the CR modifier to claims in order to be reimbursed for behavioral health services delivered via audio-only communications.

- 12) If any claims were not paid during the state of emergency, what can schools do?

If any school needs individualized assistance with fee-for-service claims, including inquires and processing issue resolution, they may call provider support at 1-877-254-1055.

If schools submitted their claims prior to system updates for COVID-19, schools should resubmit their claims.

Consent

13) Does each child need written consent to receive services using telemedicine?

Consent is not necessary when telemedicine is utilized by students who are learning remotely. Schools should refer to the Florida Department of Education for any other consent requirements.

14) If the student is over the age of 18, do they need a parent present for telemedicine to be billable to Medicaid?

Please refer to the response above.

15) When students are on campus receiving telemedicine services, is written consent required?

When a child is receiving services on campus, parents must have a choice and be informed regarding their options for face-to-face or telemedicine services. The option to opt in or out of the service using telemedicine should be made available. Schools should provide a reasonable deadline for parents to opt out of telemedicine services to ensure timeliness of service provision.

Group Services
